TASTING NOTE

Elegant white Burgundy, taut and fresh, from young vines in Puligny-Montrachet: a mouthful of green apple, a fragrance of vanilla and a fine spray of refreshing lemon.

VITICULTURE

Alain Chavy's Bourgogne Blanc comes from young vines grown in Puligny where the wines typically show green and yellow fruit, firm acidity and distinctive minerality. This Bourgogne Blanc, while light in body, is taut and fresh in character.

FOOD MATCHING

With a rich texture and toasted flavours, it pairs well with white fish and shellfish, its naturally high acidity can balance cream-based sauces. Oak-aged Chardonnay from warm climates pairs well with grilled fish, starches, butter and toasted nuts.
