VINEYARD

Coviñas's vineyards are planted on high-altitude, southeast-facing slopes in Utiel-Requena, benefiting from excellent sun exposure and significant diurnal temperature shifts. The old vines thrive in calcareous, low-fertility soils, promoting balanced growth and concentrated, mineral-driven fruit.

VITICULTURE

The Viura grapes are grown in the high-altitude vineyards of Utiel-Requena, where the combination of warm days and cool nights ensures optimal ripening while preserving acidity. The region's limestone-rich soils and dry Mediterranean climate contribute to the freshness and purity of the fruit.
