TASTING NOTE

Aromas of white flowers, citrus peel, and white peach. The palate is characterized by a lively acidity that perfectly balances its slightly creamy texture.

VINIFICATION

Hand-harvested grapes from the Rioja Alavesa region undergo a gentle pressing followed by a temperature-controlled fermentation in stainless steel and concrete tanks to preserve fresh fruit aromas. To build body and complexity, the wine is aged on its fine yeast lees for approximately four months. No oak.

FOOD MATCHING

The vibrant acidity and subtle creaminess of this unoaked white Rioja make it an excellent match for seafood paella, grilled sea bass, lemon-herb roasted chicken, or mild cheeses like young Manchego.
